While the Laboratory possesses several microtomes of various types, those expecting to use this instrument, to any great extent at least, will probably find it more satisfactory to bring their own and should in any case bring their own knives. In the case of certain very expensive reagents such as osmic acid, gold chloride and platinum chloride, the Laboratory usually makes an extra charge at cost price for all above a certain amount or even may limit the amount used by an investigator if the reagent be difficult to obtain and liable to be required by other investigators. This may apply also to any dyes which are scarce and difficult to obtain. No alcohol is supplied beyond what is needed for the work done in the Laboratory. THE LIBRARY THE STAFF Robert P. Bigelow, Librarian and Associate Professor of Zoology and Parasitology, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Librarian. Priscilla B. Montgomery (Mrs. Thomas H. Montgomery, Jr.), Assistant Librarian. The Library is located conveniently in a large, well-lighted room in the main building of the Laboratory and is near the rooms occupied by many research workers. It is accessible at all times to all persons connected with the Laboratory. The Library contains about io.000 volumes, including a carefully selected collection of text-books, treatises, monographs, and books of reference on...
