Excerpt: .at Clatsop in the winter of 1805-06 as it had been cold at Mandan in 1804-05. The time was passed in various useful diversions; stockading their fort, bartering with the Indians, studying natural history, ethnology, etc., and naturally there was much hunting, of elk principally, for food and skins. Toward spring the elk became shy and left the region, thus hastening the party s departure. Gass kept an inventory which shows that between December 1, 1805, and March 20, 1806, they killed 131 elk and twenty deer, and that there were on hand at the latter date 338 pairs of mockasons. An episode of the winter was a visit of Captain Clark and a large party to the seacoast to see a stranded whale, and if possible, to procure some of the blubber to add to the variety of their table. As soon as this...
