With oratory, feasting, reunions of former students, athletic contests, pageant, and social gatherings, the occasion was at once notable and unique, bringing together the most remarkable gathering of friends of the Commonwealth s chief institution of learning that had ever assembled upon its historic grounds. The program of the occasion really opened October 13, with what is known as the annual tug-of-war between the freshman and sophomore classes, followed by a reception the same evening for all visiting alumni. On the following morning the literary phases of the celebration were preceded by a procession and pageant of the student-body through the streets of the city, followed by lunch, served upon the campus, to about one thousand guests and friends of the University. The afternoon of the same day was consumed with a formal dedication of the institution s athletic grounds and a football contest between teams representing the University of Kentucky and Vanderbilt University.
